FORTY-FIFTH CONGRESS.

Passage of the Bill to Organize the Life Saving Service---Inquiring into the Industrial and Education Condition of the Country.

By Telegraph to the News.

WASHINGTON, June 17.—In the Senate this morning Thurman, of Ohio, introduced a bill to repeal section 820 and 821 of the United States revised statutes in regard to challenging jurors in United States Courts, who have taken up arms against the government, and providing that jurors in such courts shall take the iron clad oath. Referred to the committee on the Judiciary.

Conkling, of New York, from the Judiciary Committee, reported an amendment to the sundry civil bill appropriating $300,000 to defray expenses of United States Courts. Referred to the committee on Appropriations.

After discussion, the Senate passed, without amendment, the House bill to organize the life saving service. It now goes to the President for his signature. (It authorizes the Secretary of the Treasury to establish a number of new stations on the sea and lake coasts of the United States; provides for the appointment of a general superintendent of the Life Saving Service by the president; also the appointment of a district superintendent of the Gulf coast of the United States by the Secretary of the Treasury; fixes the compensation of keepers; and prescribes the duty of general superintendent, keepers, &c.)

The Senate by a vote of yeas 24, nays 30, refused to reconsider the vote by which the joint resolution, in regard to the eight hour law, was postponed until next session.

Cameron, of Pennsylvania, submitted the following: Resolved, that the committee on Education and Labor be instructed to inquire into the industrial condition of the country, extent, nature, and causes of depression of business, and enforced idleness of labor; and what remedies, if any can be provided, by National Legislation; and also into the expediency of providing a permanent bureau in one of the Executive Departments for the purpose of gathering and publishing statistics of the national industries; and that committee report by bill or otherwise. Agreed to.

In the House the Tobacco Bill progressed up to the ordering of its engrossment and third reading, an opponent of the bill demanded the reading of the engrossed bill, and as it would require two hours' to engross it, the House proceeded in the meantime to other business.

The Conference report on the Legislative Bill was agreed to.

No Conference report has yet been made on the Post Route Bill, which contains the Brazilian subsidy clause. The Committee have failed to agree, and will report disagreement.

The House took a recess until 8 o'clock, p. m., and a Democratic caucus was called.

In the Senate Mr. Gordon desired the passage of several bills to remove political disabilities, some of which had not yet been reported from the Judiciary Committee; but he said there was no objection to them. The Senate, however, refused to consider the bills yet pending before the Committee on the Judiciary.

The Senate is making rapid progress with the Sundry Civil Appropriation Bill, and the indications are for a very late, if not an all night session.

E. S. Hammond was confirmed as District Judge for the Western District of Tennessee.

The House committee on Naval Affairs concluded the investigation of the affairs of the late administration of the Navy Department, and adopted resolutions for the action of the House looking to the trial and punishment of Ex-Secretary Robeson and of Wood, Hanscom and Watmought, respectively late chiefs of the Bureau of Steam Engraving, construction and repair, and provisions and clothing. The committee, in presenting the resolution, say the evidence, for the most part, was taken from the official reports and records of the department. The committee find that vast amounts which, under law, should have been turned into the Treasury, were disposed of in secret and improper ways, and the proceeds applied to naval accounts.

Josiah Dent and L. L. Phelps were nominated for commissioners of this district.

The House is in evening session.

A message was sent to the Senate asking that Senator Matthews may be allowed to appear and testify before the Potter Investigating Committee.

In the post route bill it was reported that the Conference committee had been unable to agree, and a new conference was ordered.

A Conference report on the Mexican award bill was agreed to. It authorizes the President to reopen the awards in the west and La Abra cases.

In the Louisiana contested election cases Robertson and Elam were declared entitled to their seats and leave to take additional testimony was given in the Alabama contested case of Harralson against Shelly.

9:30 p. m.—The Senate is still on the Sundry Civil Appropriation Bill, and a number of the amendments of the Committee on Appropriattons in regard to the improvement of the Capitol building and grounds was agreed to. The bill will be passed about midnight, and then it will get to the Conference Committee before morning.

The Conference report on the Legislative, Judicial and Executive Appropriation Bill has been agreed to by both Houses, and the bill passed.

The Sundry Civil Bill is the only appropriation bill yet to be passed.

EUROPEAN CONGRESS.

The Dangerous Points of Discussion.

By Cable to the News.

BERLIN, June 17.—The Congress meets at two this afternoon. The Bulgarian question will be likely to come up for discussion first. Then the Montenegrin and Servian questions. Prince Bismarck having, it is said, submitted a plan for taking up the respective chapters of the treaty of San Stefano, in order of their importance, and of the amount of opposition they are likely to meet. The questions which threaten the success of the Congress are believed to be the cession of Antivari to Montenegro; the position of Roumelia in relation to Turkey; and of the administrative and governmental organization of Roumelia.

Austria and Italy will oppose the cession of Antivari. Russia alone, or perhaps Germany, will uphold it, but this question may be compromised, or Russia may yield. England, France, Austria, Turkey, and perhaps Italy, will uphold the anti Russian arrangement and organization of Roumelia. On these questions. It is thought England and Austria cannot yield; Russia can and must. Her friends allege she will not, but such ascertions are probably intended to mislead and influence the forces which are contesting Russia's claims. The fact is the war party was banished from the capital when Ignatieff went to Kieff, at least this is the belief of well qualified observers of Russian public opinions. Bessarabia will be yielded to the personal wishes of the Czar, and Roumania will accept the Dobrudja in exchange. Territorial concessions in Armenia will not at least meet opposition from England. The question of war indemnity will be settled by the appointment of a commissioner to collect the Turkish revenues, and pay over a certain proportion to Russia annually, or to capitalize such proportion by foreign loan, and pay the Russian claim in a bulk. One notable feature in all these speculations is that they omit to take any account of the possible opposition from the Turks themselves. This omission is only justifiable on the assumption that all the modifications of the treaty of San Stefano, which the powers will demand, are in favor of Turkey, which is not by any means certain. Corathadori Pasha is making preparations for a vigorous representation of Turkish interests before the Congress, but his position is very unpleasant.

An Interview with Minister Noyes.

By Telegraph to the News

NEW YORK, June 17.—Minister Noyes arrived here to-day from France, in the City of Richmond.

In conversation with a representative of the associated press, relating the cause of his return at this time, Minister Noyes said: "I went to Florida for no purpose on earth except to ascertain the vote of the State, and to see whether or not the popular vote had been cast for the Republican electors. I stated to the Republican members of the canvassing board that all we wanted was an honest decision. I never made any promise to McLin or any other member of the board, nor did I suggest any possible reward or recognition in case Governor Hayes should be finally declared elected, and so far as McLin is concerned, I never saw him alone one moment in my life before the vote of Florida had been cast. I am now informed for the first time that even McLin does not say that I made him any promise. Had I known that before leaving Paris, I should not have demanded a subpœna; but should have remained in France to attend to my public duties. I do not care to be more specific, as it would, perhaps, be in bad taste, considering that I am so soon to give my sworn statement to the Committee.

In the course of further conversation, Minister Noyes said: That while he did not care, at this time, to be interviewed, he had nothing whatever to conceal. He also expressed the hope that every politician in the North, whether Democrat or Republican, would be subpœnaed, who had visited Florida on this business, as that would be only fairness to all parties concerned or interested in the matter. It was certainly due to him since he had been so conspicuously named in the preamble of Mr. Potter's resolution.

Minister Noyes will remain in town to-night, and leave for Washington to-morrow.

Condition of the Cotton Crop.

By telegraph to the News.

WASHINGTON, June 17.—The June returns to the Department of Agriculture indicate an increase of fully 3 per cent. in the area planted in cotton. The per centage as compared with the acreage of 1877, are Virginia 100; North Carolina 101; South Carolina 103; Georgia 102; Florida 100; Alabama 104; Mississippi 100; Louisiana 101; Texas 106; Arkansas and Tennessee 98. The condition of the crops is better than in June of last year, the figures indicating it are the same as in 1877, in Virginia, Georgia and Louisiana, and higher in all other States. Thus Virginia 98; North Carolina 87; South Carolina 99; Georgia 101; Florida 98; Alabama 101; Mississippi, Louisiana and Arkansas 98; Tennessee 97; Texas 104. General average 99. The stand is generally good. In limited districts it is imperfect, owing to the planting of seed of impaired vitality. The season is ten days earlier than last year, and the crop is further advanced than usual in some districts and in a few localities three to four weeks ahead of last year. The low condition in North Carolina is the result of wet weather and cool nights. South Carolina and Georgia planting was unusually early with seasonable weather until the first week in May, since when a comparative drought is reported. In several districts of Georgia the prospects are better than for many years. In Mississippi, Louisiana and Arkansas there have been frequent rains in some districts, in some cases injuriously heavy. Texas has had favorable weather, and but few insects are reported. The cut worm was a partial cause of the defective stands at many points on the Atlantic coast. In limited areas west of the Mississippi plants begin to be infested by lice, but the injury is very slight. The fields are unusually clean in culture. Labor is increasingly efficient.

The Potter Committee.

By Telegraph to the News.

WASHINGTON, June 17.—In the Potter Committee, H. Conquest Clarke, late private secretary of Governor Kellogg, was recalled and cross examined by McMahon, relative to the second set of certificates. No developments.

The committee at 11:30 adjourned until Wednesday, in order to give the members an opportunity to participate in the closing business of the present session.

Potter having written Kellogg requesting him to appear before the committee at his convenience, Kellogg names to-day, after the morning hour of the Senate as agreeable, to which Potter responds, thanking Kellogg for promptness in the matter, and promising to inform him when his presence was required.

GALVESTON, June 7.—A special to the News from Eagle Pass, says the Mexican Government having discovered General Mackenzie on their soil with American troops, has ordered Colonel Nuncio (falsely reported dead), to take one hundred soldiers and go after Mackenzie, Nuncio's troops being poorly mounted it is not expected that he will overtake Mackenzie.

SUPREME COURT.

Digest of Opinions of the Supreme Court Filed at June Term, 1878, to Appear in 79 N. C. Reports.

[Reported for the News by Walter Clarke Esq., Attorney at Law.]

BY SMITH, C. J.:

1. Sprinkle v. Sanderson, from Tyrrell. Where a decree has been rendered in a proceeding instituted under sec. 147, ch. 45, Battle's Revisal, settling up an estate and discharging the guardian and executor from all further liability, the lapse of five years and the acquiescence during that time in said decree bars the right of a ward, or legatee, who was a party (duly served with summons) in said action, to bring an action of account and settlement on the averment of undue influence. Such decree is protected by the acquiescence or delay of the parties interested, unless impeached in a direct proceeding for fraud in obtaining it.

BY READE, J.

2. Pritchard v Askew, from Hertford. Where there was a sale of land, title being retained till purchase money paid, and after partial payments, the vendor took possession and subsequently the vendee brought this action for a sale of the land and an account and settlement against the vendor. Held. There is no rule of law requiring an allowance of enough rent for land while in possession of the defendant, as would cover interest on the purchase money, and as a matter of fact the rent may often not be equal to the purchase money. The court below is competent to judge whether the amount allowed for damages done to the land while in possession of defendant is adequate, and where the evidence below is very voluminous and nothing is pointed out in this Court to enable it to see error, the allowance below will be confirmed. Unless it appears as a fact that there was a difference between amount of rent the defendant actually received and what he ought to have received, an exception that he should have been charged with the latter instead of the former, is overruled. The defendant paid taxes during the war, in Confederate money, and the referee scaled it down to gold and then estimated its value in currency at that time. This was error. The value of the gold in currency at this time, is the true rule. The damages allowed by referee for injury to the land, nothing appearing to the contrary, bears interest from the date of allowance by reference and not from the date of the damage done.

BY RODMAN, J.

3. Weeks v. Weeks, from Pasquotank. This is a petition by defendants in the case reported 77 N. C. 421. Where a testator bequeathed to certain of his children, a fund arising from a policy of insurance which belonged to all his children equally, and directed that in event the fund should be used in the payment of debts, the bequest should be made good out of his land and the residue of the land divided among all his children equally. Held: The petitioners have a right to have it ascertained by an account how much of such fund has been used in payment of the debts for by the will it is only such a part of the land as is equivalent to the sum so used which is to be set apart to the defendants in addition to the shares which they would have taken upon an equal division among all the children.

No court has power to order a sale of the land of an infant, or indeed of a party, generally, except in a case where the land is bound by some trust, or the like, or where the power is given by some statute, and the court is not aware of any which gives it in a case like this. The language in the decision 77 N. C. 421 "that there was no way to ascertain the value of the land except by a sale, and a sale had not been asked for" meant merely that as a sale was not asked for, the question of ordering it had not been considered.

BY BYNUM, J.

4. Pruden v. Paxton, from Chowan. Where the testator after devising real estate (admitted to be in excess of her dower right) to the widow for life, bequeaths "all my other property of every description to my dear wife and beloved children, to be divided among them according to law," and part of such residue consisted of real estate. Held: The wife took a fee simple in such residue, and the words in italics are simply declaratory not of the quantity of the estate conveyed but of how the devisees shall hold it, to wit in severalty by a division to be made in the mode prescribed by law.

BY FAIRCLOTH, J.:

5. Smith v. Moore, from Chowan. Where a Commissioner appointed to sell land for partition, sells and collects the purchase money but fails to pay over, a party interested in the fund must resort to an action against the Commissioner. There is no summary proceeding to enforce collection by a motion in the original cause. The Commissioner can be attached for contempt or removed upon motion, but a judgment against him for the amount can only be had in an action instituted directly for that purpose.

SENATOR MERRIMON.

His Late Card to the Public.

Wilson Advance.

With all respect to Judge Merrimon and full appreciation of his high qualities of statemanship and his eminent abilities as Senator, we are firmly and sincerely persuaded that this card is unfortunate, and can do no possible good either for himself or for the party to which he claims allegiance. The manner of his election to the United States Senate could never meet the approval of any good, orthodox Democrat, and as is well known, it was condemned from one end of the State to the other at the time of the accomplishment. The very fact, as admitted in his card, that he consulted friends as to the propriety of accepting a position tendered to him under such circumstances, shows that the manner of his election did not meet the entire approval of his own conscience. His election was in defiance of the will of the Democratic party expressed in accordance with a usage recognized from time immemorial. It was brought about by a coalition of the entire Radical delegation in the Legislature with the few friends of Judge Merrimon who refused to participate in the caucus and be guided by the voice of the majority. It was a defeat of the Democratic nominees. It was a result that gave exultation to the Radicals, and brought bitter disappointment to the great heart of the Democratic party of North Carolina. The wound, however, which was made by that unfortunate action, was being healed, and soon the last painful remembrance of its occurrence would have been forgotten under the soothing influence of time. The able and dignified course of the Senator himself in Congress was doing much to obliterate all the asperities and injurious effects of that unfortunate controversy. And we cannot but regard it unfortunate, to say the least, that any thing should be said or done at this time calculated to revive the remembrance of an event so fraught with bitter feeling and so pregnant with harm. Judge Merrimon is the last man in the world who should have attempted its resurrection. No excuse of self-vindication will justify him in renewing a controversy so well calculated to produce fewds and divisions in the Democratic party.

RAILROAD COMBINATIONS.

Wayne County Resolutions on the Subject.

Correspondence of the News.

GOLDSBORO, June 15.

At the Democratic State Convention, held in Raleigh on the 13th instant, the following preamble and resolutions were presented and offered by the Wayne county delegation, read by the Secretary in open Convention, and referred to the Committee on Resolutions; which committee made no report, and in the official proceedings of the Contion, I see no mention is made of them or of their presentation. The preamble and resolutions were as follows:

PREAMBLE AND RESOLUTIONS.

Whereas all railroad combinations or monied monopolies of any character whatsoever, are opposed to the spirit of our free institutions and detrimental to the public good; therefore, be it

Resolved, By the Democratic party in Convention assembled, That the Governor be requested to use his best endeavors to break up such combinations, if any exist.

Resolved, That the Legislature be requested to pass such laws as will protect our people, in future, from such combinations or monopolies.

REMARKS BY THE AUTHOR.

This is good Democratic doctrine, or ought to be. There is a growing disposition on the part of the people, to oppose rings, combinations and monopolies, and no public man or party can get the support of the people who favors them.

There is a combination now existing in this State between the Wilmington and Weldon Railroad, the Atlantic and North Carolina Railroad, the Raleigh and Gaston Railroad, and the Old Dominion Steamship Company, which is a great grievance and burden to the people of this section of the State. Our people feel that thousands of dollars are extracted from their pockets annually, not to benefit the State or the roads, especially, but to enrich capitalists who live in other States. It is well known that a controlling interest in the stock of all these Railroads, except the Atlantic and North Carolina Road, is now owned by foreign capitalists, and it is asking too much that the only State road we have, should be surrendered to their control, and the people indirectly taxed in enormous sums for their support. This matter must be agitated till we get relief, and the sooner the better. WAYNE.

HON. JOHN MANNING, OF CHATHAM.

His Speech before the Convention.

From full Manuscript Notes.

The following is the full text of the speech of Hon. John Manning, of Chatham, on being called to temporarily preside over the State Convention.

Gentlemen of the State Convention:—

It is a great honor to preside over this body, and I thank you for the high compliment you have paid me by selecting me as your tempoprary chairman. The record of the Democratic party in North Carolina, from 1865 to the present time, is an illustrious example, of unflinching courage, of steadfast adherance to the principles of constitutional and civil liberty of uncompromising devotion to the rights of the people, and of steady growth.

The Democratic column has attacked, and carried, one by one the strongholds of the Republican party. "The past at least is secure," and now the yeomanry of the Democratic host, coming from the "land of the sky," the sparkling Catawba, from the tawny Dan, from the historic Yadkin, from the majestic Cape Fear, from the white waters of the Pamlico and Albemarle, and from the Elm City, have gathered here in this city of oaks to plan its final campaign, and marshal its ranks for a last assault upon the remaining stronghold in North Carolina, from whose parapets wave the banner of the Republican party—with malice to none, with charity for all, with hatred only for monopoly and tyrany, with loyalty to the constitution of the State and of the United States, with an honest, frank submission to all the results of the war, and with a chivalric devotion to the rights of the people, we come with the solid column, and the invincible tread, of the Macedonian phalanx. The record of the Democratic party of the nation, for the same length of time, is alike illustrious and brilliant, State after State have gone into the Democratic ranks, and as the triumphal procession moved on, it gathered momentum and power, until it carried the presidential election, and drove the Republican party to the commission of a fraud so monstrous, and so glaring, to the people of this country, that although it seated Hayes, yet no leading northern Republican is found "so poor as to do him reverence," and his administration to-day, is dependent upon the manliness, justice and patriotism of the Southern Democrats.

Military despotism, that blocked the doors of the State capitol against the chosen representatives of the people, has gone down before its conquering legions, hate has given place to love, "grim visaged war hath smoothed his wrinkled front," the money lords have been made to loosen their hold upon the throats of the people, official honesty has become a virtue, and civil service reform something more than a name; truly, "peace has her victories more renowned than war." Glorious as these results are, there is still much for the people's party to do. We must marshal our host, officer it, husband our strength, heal all heartburnings, and "bend up every spirit to his full height."

In this noble company, there is room and place for all. It is the opportunity and the duty of the National Democratic party, by wise legislation, to restore business confidence, to bring back national prosperity, to supply a circulating medium sufficient for the business wants of the people; to encourage enterprise by reducing the rate of interest, to reform our Internal Revenue system; to recast our tariff until we make it a tariff for revenue and not for protection. To convert our interest bearing debt, into a non-interest bearing debt, by calling in the national currency, and issuing United States treasury notes to the banks in payment for bonds, and allowing them to banks to the full amount of the treasury notes issued; or by striking off the ten per cent. tax upon the State banks—to reform the civil service, and to lighten taxation by reducing the expenditures of the government. This is a great work, demanding courage, firmness, caution and wisdom. But I believe that the Democratic party will be equal to its power, and to the needs of the country.

The Democratic party in North Carolina, in 1870, swept as with the blast of a tornado, the Republican party from the General Assembly. In 1872 and '74 we again carried the Legislature: in 1875 we carried the Constitutional Convention, falsified all the prophesies of our political adversaries, inaugurated a policy that has placed our county governments in the hands of the whites; saved the East from ruin and bankruptcy; tunnelled our Western mountains, and carried the iron horse beyond the ridge. Reformed our judicial system, meted out even-handed justice to the whites and to the colored; established normal and common schools alike, but separate, for both races, and thrown the same sheltering loving arm around the poor, the afflicted and the insane.

In 1876 we carried the General Assembly, and the Executive, established our Agricultural Department, revived, enlarged, and popularized that nursery of great men, the University of the State. This is, indeed, a glorious record for a people, three-fourths of whose property was confiscated just thirteen years ago, and now we come with all these rich treasures in our hands, with all these trophies, with this rich heritage of freedom, won by our patience, and our wisdom, to put the keystone upon this civic arch that shall bind and fasten it all together as a compact and harmonious whole.

We come to select a Supreme court that shall be a shore to the turbulent waves of passion and prejudice, saying to the angry waters "thus far shalt thou go and no farther," that shall be a home where the poor and the weak shall find a shelter, from wrong and oppression. A great rock in whose shadow the people may rest; a tribunal whose first duty shall be the maintenance of personal liberty without exhaustion and without overflow; whose learning we may respect, whose integrity we may trust, and whose wisdom we may revere.

And now, gentlemen, with home in sight, with true and watchful sentinels at the helm—in the main top, and on the forecastle, with every sail spread, and propitious winds speeding us to the haven where we would be, will the crew mutiny, and run the good old ship, freighted with the rich treasures of the past, and bright hopes of the future upon the quick sands of place and pelf. No! a thousand times no! Brethren of a common ancestry, and of a common destiny, away with individual preferences, and let us here renew our vows of devotion to civil liberty, and make one more united, earnest, faithful effort for the salvation of North Carolina, who, although scarred with many wounds, yet turns her face lovingly and hopefully towards us, and whose sons from their last resting places, dotting every hill side in this Southern land, implore us to heal our differences, join our shields and press once more to victory.

GASTON COUNTY.

The Wheat, Corn and Cotton Crop --- Congressional and County Candidates---Strong Disposition to Pledge for Vance.

Correspondence of the News.

DALLAS, N. C., June 12.

The harvesting of the wheat crop of our county, which is now nearly finished, has developed the fact that the early wheat was not nearly so much injured by rust as was apprehended. Late wheat was seriously damaged, some fields of it were hardly worth harvesting. It is believed, however, that on account of the greater acreage seeded, the crop will be nearly, if not quite, equal to that of last year.

Oats are generally good, some of it very fine. Later crops, however, have been much damaged and a few fields rendered entirely worthless by the rust. The corn and cotton crops both promise well, though rain is much needed in some sections.

The fruit crop is abundant and we had fresh, ripe peaches, raised in the county, on the market in Dallis last Monday.

A MATCH GAME.

A match game of base ball, between the Gastonia and Dallas nines, was played on the grounds of the latter club on last Saturday, which resulted in a victory for Dallas. The same clubs meet for a second game at Gastonia next Saturday.

THE MANY ASPIRANTS FOR OFFICE.

The county is full of patriotic citizens, who are ready and willing, and even eager, to sacrifice their personal interests for the salvation of the party. Our County Convention meets on Tuesday, the 25th inst, Thus far only four have been led "by many friends" to announce their willingness to serve the county in the next Legislature, subject to the action of the Convention. I am told, however, that there are any number of "dark horses" yet to be heard from. The candidates for the various county offices are "thick as blackberries."

STEELE, JOHNSTON AND FINGER.

Col. Wm. Johnston, of Charlotte, will be a candidate before the Congressional Nominating Convention, and, from present indications, he will make it interesting for Steele. Catawba county has just put forward Maj. Finger also. The relative strength of the three men is largely a matter of conjecture as yet; but as against both Johnston and Finger, I should say Steele will not have a "walk over the course" for a re-nomination.

THE FEELING FOR VANCE.

There is a strong disposition among our people to exact a pledge from our candidate for the Legislature to vote for Gov. Vance for United States Senator next January. I have read Judge Merrimon's card carefully, and I do not think it will have the effect of alarming Vance's friends to any great extent. Unless he brings plainer, stronger and better reasons to bear, I am perfectly satisfied that our man will be "packed" against him again.

WHAT WILL NOT OUT.

We have nothing to say against Judge Merrimon's course in the Senate. He has represented us ably and well, and our people have nothing but words of praise and commendation for him. But they remember that he did not "enter in at the straight gate." That is the "damned spot that will not out." He has not been "misrepresented and foully slandered" in this part of the State, at least. We know, here, the history of his election just as he himself relates it, and have known that same history, and nothing more, all along. No one in this country has been rash enough to accuse the Judge of intriguing with the Republicans. We only know that he obtained, by unfair means, and has held for five years, that seat in the U. S. Senate, which the Democracy of North Carolina designed for another man.

VANCE THE MAN FOR THE SENATE.

Judge Merrimon says: "Great political parties cannot afford to allow their action and the success of great principles to be controlled by the personal rivalries and conflicts of their members, nor can they wisely embrace the course of one member against another."

True as gospel, but it has no application in this case. There are no great principles, the success of which depends alone upon the re-election of Judge Merrimon. And without entering into a comparison of the two men, we believe Gov. Vance to be fully as competent to prosecute to a successful determination all issues in which North Carolina is interested, as any man in her borders; and so believing, we expect to send a "marked" man to the next legislature, and if there is anything wrong in it, let it be charged to the Democrats of Gaston county. They, alone, will be responsible for it. And if we succeed in instructing our man as we hope to do, it will be the result of no unfair or underhanded means. We have publicly announced our intention of making the attempt, and Judge Merrimon's friends, if he has any in the county, have had ample warning. Now let them resist this attempt and send our member to Raleigh uninstructed if they can.

No Indications of the Grand Strike.

ST. LOUIS, June 17.—The Times' article regarding a general strike which has been alleged would be inaugurated to-day throughout the country, says: There are no indications here, either among the railroad employees or other mechanics, or laboring men of any such movement, and no one is apprehended by the employers of labor. The police and municipal authorities, however, have been alert, fully prepared to meet any emergency. Besides having local militia ready for immediate action, arrangements have been made with the authorities at Washington for prompt assistance.

A Golden Sensation.

THE PRESIDENTIAL TITLE.

A Quietus to Senseless Agitation.

Philadelphia Times.

The judiciary committee of the House yesterday reported the following: "Resolved, That the two houses of the Forty-Fourth Congress having counted the votes cast for President and Vice-President of the United States, and having declared Rutherford B. Hayes and Wm. A. Wheeler to be duly elected President and Vice-President, there is no power in any subsequent Congress to reverse that declaration, nor can any such power be exercised by the courts of the United States or any other tribunals that Congress can create under the Constitution." The resolution had the cordial approval of every Democrat on the committee but J. Proctor Knott, a Kentucky Bourbon, and every Republican but Benjamin F. Butler, a Massachusetts political tramp. It came to the house from the ablest committee of the body, and was promptly adopted by the overwhelming vote of 234 to 14. The 14 revolutionists present a mixture of Bourbons who learn nothing, Confederates who think the rebellion is still going on, and political imbeciles who reject wisdom the more vehemently when its paths are plain to all. In thus setting at rest forever the foolish and criminal agitation of the displacement of President Hayes, the House has given expression to the convictions and earnest wishes of nine-tenths of the whole people of the country, and those who would keep the nation in continued unrest by the revolutionary machinations of lawless law-makers, have given their constituents an opportunity to redeem their States and districts at the next election from the shame of such misrepresentation. The peace of the Republic was maintained at no common sacrifice by the acceptance of the Electoral Commission, and the people now mean to enforce law and peace, while they make exhaustive efforts to unmask fraud and punish the criminals of high and low degree who have conceived and executed it.

CHAPEL HILL, June 17.

There were about thirty Normalites at Chapel Hill on Saturday. One resolute fellow had walked from beyond New Berne, more than 160 miles, bringing with his commission as a free school teacher, and his correspondence with President Battle that he might be identified. "Faint heart never won fair lady," and wisdom is a coy maiden to be won only by the resolute and energetic."

SENATOR CAMERON, of the sub-committee of the Senate election committee, has notified the full committee that he will report in favor of Corbin, of South Carolina, in the case of Corbin against Butler.

THE name of M. T. Leach, a prominent Raleigh merchant, is suggested for the House of Representatives from Wake. It is about time that the commercial interests of Raleigh had a representative in the legislature, and if not Mr. Leach, then some other good merchant of the city. A farmer, a merchant, a lawyer, and a doctor would be a good stand-off all around in the House.

IT is with a gratification higher than appreciation, which the News feels over the manifestation of the interest in the paper by church and educational people. It seldom happens that these friends fail to communicate with the News on any important occurrence within religious or educational circles, and it will be the constant aim of the paper to give to these matters a prominence of attention as much in proportion to the merits of these subjects of universal welfare, as may lie in its power. The wholesome inspirations of the age all come from the churches and the school houses.

As an evidence of the interest manifested among the teachers in the Normal School, at Chapel Hill, one gentleman walked from Pamlico county, nearly two hundred miles, to attend the session. The News was yesterday the recipient of five communications from prominent persons at Chapel Hill, in regard to the Normal opening, and the accounts given are most encouraging. More than fifty have already arrived, and they are pouring in by all manner of conveyances and on foot. President Battle, the Faculty and all Chapel Hill are up in arms of interest, welcome and hospitality.

HON. WM. T. DORTCH, of Wayne, consents to the use of his name for the State Senate, from the district composed of Duplin and Wayne. Mr. Dortch was twenty years ago prominent in the politics of the State, was Speaker of the House in 1860, and later a Senator from North Carolina in the Senate of the Confederate States. Since the close of the war he has not been much in politics, but it is a gratifying sign of the times that such gentlemen are coming out of their voluntary retirement to again actively participate in public affairs. Mr. Dortch will be a great acquisition to the Senate of North Carolina.

THE opening of the Normal School session at Chapel Hill to-day marks an event in the educational career of the State of North Carolina of more significance than anything which has ever transpired in our social history. It will be more numerously attended than any Normal School of the world in proportion to the population of the State; and this will evince the universal and growing interest of our people in the matter of public education. The teachers throughout the State are alive to the subject, and they come reflecting a large and influencing sentiment in their communities. It will be possible at the next session of the General Assembly to do more in behalf of schools than has ever before been accomplished in the matter of public education in a State, which, though she moves slowly and with great caution, when she does move, she moves in earnest and to some purpose. It is not wild to predict that in ten years North Carolina will possess the most perfect system of common schools of any State of the great Southern sisterhood.

North Carolina Rivers and Harbors in Congress.

The passage of the River and Harbor bill in the Senate on Saturday appropriates to North Carolina the following:

For Cape Fear improvements, $160,000; Neuse River, $40,000; French Broad, $15,000; Currituck Sound and North River, $20,000; Edenton Bay, $4,000; Scuppernong River, $2,000; Survey of inland water route from Norfolk to Beaufort and the Cape Fear, $20,000.

This fine showing for the State speaks volumes for the North Carolina delegation in Congress, and specially for the indefatigable and usually successful efforts of Senator Ransom, who, in Senate Committee, secured an addition of $75,000 to the original bill for the Cape Fear; for the Neuse an increase of $20,000; for the French Broad the appropriation of $15,000, and for the inland water survey the appropriation of $20,000. He thereby more than doubled the whole appropriation for North Carolina, a fact worth taking note of here.

The University Normal School.

The excellent methods adopted by the managers of this school have attracted great attention from educators everywhere.

Teachers from Virginia, Georgia, South Carolina and Pennsylvania have asked permission to attend as "lookers-on," which permission has been, of course, granted.

The authorities of a distinguished University have instituted enquiries as to the plan of the school and will probably imitate it. It is a noble institution. Hundreds of the best teachers cannot get together in pursuit of the common object of improvement in their great calling without receiving and conferring inestimable good. Beyond doubt, a movement has been inaugurated which will lead to the educational regeneration of our State.

"The schoolmaster is abroad!" The classes are gathering. Among the very first arrivals, days before the opening of the school, teachers from the counties of the mountains, and counties of the sea shore, from those bordering on Virginia and those bordering on South Carolina, from the Piedmont and the centre, meet one another and join hands in the search for mental improvement. Nearly every county in the State will be represented, and by mutual intercourse aid in driving from our State the bone of sectional jealousies, which have in the past retarded the advance of North Carolina.

The State Ticket.

The response which comes up from all portions of the State, respecting the State ticket nominated last week, evinces a unanimity singular in the political history of the State.

There is absolutely no division of sentiment in the ranks of the Democracy, regarding the eminent fitness as to character and standing, and pre-eminent qualifications of the gentlemen named for the Supreme Bench.

As far as heard from there is no vitality of opposition in the Republican ranks to the Democratic ticket, and it looks as if that party will find it impossible to make a State campaign this year. This is a remarkable change in the political situation when ten years ago the Republicans carried the State so overwhelmingly, electing a full judiciary, and executive ticket, and carrying the Legislature so nearly unanimous as to have made it scarcely worth while to note the exception.

And the condition is hardly less remarkable with respect to that existing at this time two years ago. A party which, in the election of 1876, polled nearly one hundred and fifteen thousand votes in the State, falling only some ten thousand behind its adversary, finds itself unable now to create a riffle on the wave of politics. The philosophy of this state of things is that the Republican organization exhausted itself in that struggle to perpetuate its power here, and the stupendous fraud perpetrated on the Presidency at Washington was of such an alarming and astounding nature to the moral sense of the people of this State, of whatever politics they may be, that the Republican party has not been able to recover itself in North Carolina.

It need not be supposed that the failure to oppose the Democratic State ticket arises from any high principle on the part of the Republican leaders or masses. The purity of character of the gentlemen named, the propriety of elevating the Judiciary above the plane of politics, or any other ennobling consideration, would not weigh a feather's weight with the men who, ten years ago, shackled their State and ruthlessly invaded every department of government to the gratification of the basest political passions and licentious lusts of party. Their inability to arouse to activity now argues no reform. Paralyzed by the effects of their political crimes, stunned by the force of a crushing overthrow, reduced to the torpor of a political winter, restore them to health and activity, let propitious suns warm them into life, and they will again fasten their deadly fangs into the body politic.

Let no idle tears of vain sympathy waste themselves on the occasion of a political funeral so proper, appropriate and auspicious for the good of the State and the benefits of society. Accept no action of co-operation, or non-action of opposition as evidences of contrition, the presence of a spirit of magnanimity, or the inspiration of a high public principle. Let the Republicans of North Carolina understand that the Democracy appreciates the true situation; that the time has passed when their co-operation in any political movement could be significant of any public good; and that, therefore, what would be most desirable on the part of the Democratic party would be active Republican organization and opposition, as the best promoter and preserver of Democratic vitality and organization.

Consumption Cured.

An old physcian, retired from practice, had placed in his hands by an East Indian missionary the formula of a simple vegetable remedy, for the speedy and permanent cure of consumption, bronchitis, catarrh, asthma, and all throat and lung affections, also a postive radical cure for nervous debility and all nervous complaints, after having tested its wonderful curative powers in thousands of cases, has felt his duty to make it known to his suffering fellows. Actuated by this motive, I will send free of charge, to all who desire it, this recipe, with full directions for peparing and using, in German, French or English. Sent by addressing with stamp, naming this paper. W. W. Sherar, 149 Powers Block, Rochester, N. Y. *

Why he Wouldn't Marry Her.

"Marry her! by George! I would if it wasn't for her confounded nose."

"Nose! Ha, ha! What's the matter with her nose? Is it too short, too long or crooked—which? You're too fastidious young man. A woman may be a charming wife and have any one of these deformities."

"It isn't any of them, old fellow. The fact is I like Kitty—like to look at her and talk with her—but any closer relationship I could not endure. Her nose is too o-d-o-r-o-u-s!"

Unfortunate Kitties should use Dr. Sage's Catarrh Remedy, the wonderful disinfecting properties of which instantly sweeten the breath, destroying all offensive ordor. To its mild, soothing, and healing effects the most inveterate cases of catarrh promptly yield. Sold by all druggists.

Republican Judicial Convention.

This Convention for this District, Judicial meets at Tarboro to-day. The following delegates from this county, left yesterday to attend. A. Magnin, J. H. Jones, T. F. Lee, M. B. Barbee.

The convention is held to nominate a Solicitor. Such is the Republican majority that a nomination is about equivalent to an election. There are two candidates from this county. J. C. L. Harris and T. R. Purnell, Mr. Harris has been in Tarboro several days, manipulating the wires etc. Mr. Purnell accompanied the delegation yesterday. There are also quite a number of candidates for the nomination from other counties.

The Oxford Orphans.

Mr. J. H. Mills, the kind hearted Superintendent of the Oxford Orphan Asylum, in charge of the band of orphans who have been making a tour of the State, giving concerts for the benefit of that noble charity, will arrive in this city to-morrow. In the evening, the little pupils, who have once before delighted an audience here, will again appear at Metropolitan Hall. The object is to secure contributions of the charitable, in aid of the institution in which these little ones are brought up. Raleigh is expected to give the singers a good audience and a liberal contribution.

Market Report.

Mr. C. Battle Fowler, Clerk of the City Market, reports that for the last week, the following were exposed for sale: Beeves, 48; sheep, 206; hogs, 48; sausage, 450 pounds; fish, 630 bunches. Butter has sold at 20 to 25 cents; chickens at 12 to 15 cents for spring, and 25 to 30 cents for veterans; eggs at 12 to 15 cents. Vegetables and country produce of all descriptions have been abundant. Fruits have also made their appearance in quantities. The market has been a good one as to variety and quantity.

The New Post Office.

The statements made by the officials in charge of this structure, up to a short time ago, was that the work would recommence as soon as appropriations for its continuance was made. Now the necessary amount has been voted by Congress, and yet there are no signs of work on the building. Why is this. Our people are apathetic, and apparently think little and care less about the need of the new building being made ready for occupancy. But some of us are awake to the necessity.

St. Mary's Hall.

The closing exercises of this Female Institute are now in progress. The examinations of the scholars began yesterday and continue to-day and to-morrow. This evening there will be held a "Soiree Dramatique," at which the exercises will be conducted exclusively in French and German. To-morrow is Senior "Class Day." In the evening there will be a "Soiree Musicale," beginning at 8 P. M.

Christian Association Meeting.

A meeting will be held this evening at 8 o'clock, at the Presbyterian Church, under the auspices of the Young Men's Christian Association. Mr. Thomas K. Cree, Travelling Secretary of the Executive Committee of the Young Men's Christian Association of the United States and British Provinces, will deliver an address. He visits Raleigh by appointment of the Executive Committee of this State, and with the endorsement of our city association. We hope Mr. Cree will be greeted with a crowded house, and our association encouraged in its efforts to more fully carry out its legitimate objects and work in the community.

Raleigh should not be behind other communities in this State in extending to Mr. Cree and the association its encouragement and co-operation. We learn that in Charlotte, Salisbury, and Greensboro, meetings have recently been held which were attended with very great success.

Mayor's Court.

John Hicks, a negro, who seems to be a much dreaded depredator of pigs, was arraigned on a charge of having stolen several from Ben Scott, living in this county. He was jailed in default of $100, bail.

Hicks was also up on a charge of stealing a pig from Wm. Pool, colored, found guilty and jailed twice, so to speak.

Jennie Morgan, colored, for being guilty of disorderly conduct and drunkenness in Market, was fined $5 and costs.

A veteran tippler for drunkenness and disorderly conduct, was sent to jail.

This evening, at the First Presbyterian Church, Mr. Thomas K. Cree, Secretary of the International Committee of the Young Men's Christian Association, will give a Bible reading. The affair is under the auspices of the local Association. To-morrow evening the same reading will be given at the Salisbury Street Baptist Church.

Mr. Cree has just come from the meeting at Greensboro, at which place and elsewhere he has distinguished himself by his devotion to the noble cause. He is one of the most ardent workers in the work. It is hoped the attendance will be large and the interest great.

Peace Institute.

In order that the public may have an opportunity of inspecting the paintings exhibited by the pupils of the Peace Institute, the Principal will keep the studio open to-morrow from 3 to 7 p. m. The daylight so much more readily enables one to look satisfactorily at paintings and works of art, that the plan of thus giving the exhibition is a good one. The exhibitions made by the young ladies in this line are always fine.

Keep Cool.

This is a bit of good advice in these "trying" times. 'Tis also a suggestion easy to follow, since by investing in Blake's Ice, the purest and best, one can have a luxury to cool a fevered brow or a parched throat. In our climate ice has a thousand uses and is a necessity. *

The Ætna Life Insurance Co., is successfully developing a branch of business not generally practiced. This company offers at very moderate terms—from twenty-five to fifty per cent. less than ordinary life rates—to secure business firms from losses by insuring the lives of parties indebted to them. Payment for goods frequently depends upon the purchaser living a sufficient time after the purchase has been made to realize upon the goods. By insuring the life of the purchaser, as provided in the plan in operation by the Ætna, the purchase money is secured beyond peradventure. Partners of business firms are also afforded under this plan an opportunity to insure their lives; the amount of the insurance to be paid at the death of either to the surviving partner. W. H. Crow, General Agent.

Eating is a Torture.

And sleep often a mere travesty of repose, to the dyspeptic. Appetite is correspondingly impaired by this most prevalent of maladies, and headaches, biliousness constipation, poverty of the blood, loss of flesh and of vitality, and a thousand annoying and indescribable sensations, are its concomitants. It is, moreover, the progenitor of numerous and formidable bodily disorders. Obstinate as it is, however, its complete eradication may be effected by the persistent use of Hostetter's Stomach Bitters, a medicine which communicates both vigor and regularity to the organs of digestion and secretion, relaxes the bowels gently but thoroughly enriches and purifies the blood, promotes appetite, and gives tranquility to the nervous system. Persons of weakly constitution and feeble physique who use this superb tonic infallibly derive from it the stamina of which they stand so much in need, and it is invariably successful in remedying and preventing malarial diseases. june 18 6t

Wine at Evening Parties.

No matter what may be said about the use of wines and liquors, it is the adulteration and trash mixtures that does the mischief. Where pure wines are used we hear no complaint of inebriation. We never hear of intoxication from the use of Speer's Port Grape Wine, of New Jersey. This wine is held in high estimation by the best doctors in the country, and was awarded the highest premium at the late Centennial.
